

Registration Form

Introduction to the Constitution

New Payment Policy for 2012

In the past, students planning to attend my class were allowed to register via PayPal until the last possible moment. Obviously, I can't afford to make travel arrangements unless I know in advance that my trip will be profitable. Consequently, I was forced to cancel several classes in October and November of 2010 due to insufficient registrations. Many people expressed disappointment because "they were planning to attend", however I have no way of knowing that without some form of payment. Therefore, PayPal will no longer be an option except for sponsored special events. If you plan to attend one of my classes, you must now send this registration form at least two weeks before the class date, along with $200 in cash or check, or four ounces of .999 fine silver to the address shown below. I am very eager to present my class to as many people as possible, however the previous policy was not financially viable. Your understanding is appreciated.
